Dr. Apoorva Palkar introduced the purpose, aim, and objectives of Innovation and Start-up activity. She appealed the students to be a part of Innovation and Start-up. It is a need of the hour. Don't lose hope and be a part and parcel of ecosystem of start-up. She also dealt with innovation and creativity and building awareness to create enterprise. She also appealed the students to be the Change Agent. Today's world is full of chaos. On the one hand, there is a risk and uncertainty and on the other hand, there is opportunity and passion but an Idea that can change the world.

Shri. Sunil Nikhar addressed the students on the occasion and appealed the students to recognize the talent, spark and burning desire within us. Firstly, try to understand and know the target audience before you spend a penny. Try to understand personal strengths and weaknesses. It is essential to build support network, make friends and never let them loose and never lose contact with friends.
